Car Loan	$13,063	5.94%	Scheduled min only
Student Loans	$7,659	2.75%	$0 — forbearance
Total Debt	$33,148

CC payoff is an asset-liability swap. $12,426 leaves the cash account and $12,426 in debt disappears. Net worth stays at $27,205. What changes: $0 monthly interest.

Student loans (2.75% fixed): Administrative Forbearance through Oct 31, 2028 (SAVE plan). Do not pay. Contact servicer to confirm and request refund of Jan 1 payment ($475.58).

Rent reality: $3,100/month is 51% of standard monthly net take-home ($6,060). This is well above the 30% guideline. It's the single largest constraint on this plan.

PART 2 — FIXED MONTHLY COSTS

Medical ($29.27), Vision ($0.64), and Roth 401K ($184.62/check at 4%) are pre-paycheck deductions. All figures below are based on post-deduction net take-home only.

EXPENSE	MONTHLY	PER PAYCHECK	NOTES
Rent (your portion → Checking)	$3,100.00	$1,550.00	51% of net take-home

Total Fixed	$3,570.18	$1,785.10	59% of net take-home

PART 3 — PAY SCHEDULE & MONTHLY NET

Salary: $123,935.40/year effective April 7. Current net: $2,945.47/check. Estimated new net: ~$3,030/check. Raise adds ~$85/check.

MONTH	PAYDAYS	NET TAKE-HOME	FIXED COSTS	AVAILABLE
April	Apr 3 ($2,945 old) + Apr 17 ($3,030 new)	$5,975	$3,570	$2,405
May ⭐	May 1 + May 15 + May 29	$9,090	$3,570	$5,520
June	Jun 12 + Jun 26	$6,060	$3,570	$2,490

⭐ May is the 3-paycheck bonus month. The extra paycheck's rent contribution ($1,550) pre-funds July, creating breathing room. Apr 3 = last check at old $120k rate.

PART 4 — THE PLAN

April 1 — Before the First Paycheck

Payday is 2 days away. These actions use existing cash only.

- ☐ Pay off all $12,426 in CC debt from Individual Cash Account → balance drops to $2,775. Liquid reserves across all accounts: ~$6,595. Monthly interest eliminated: ~$200–300.
- ☐ April rent paid from Checking account ($3,250 already there ✓)
- ☐ Contact student loan servicer — confirm forbearance active, request refund of Jan 1 payment ($475.58)
- ☐ Cancel any student loan autopay immediately

- ☐ Before April 15: Consider putting remaining $2,775 (Individual Cash Account) into Roth IRA as a 2025 contribution — fully separate from 2026's $7,000 limit

April — $5,975 net → $2,405 available

BUCKET	AMOUNT	NOTES
Spending (2 × $400)	$800	~$29/day per period — tight but doable
Emergency fund	$875	$400 from Apr 3 + $475 from Apr 17
Roth IRA (2 × $269)	$538	Separate from Roth 401K in paycheck
Buffer	$192	Sweep to E-Fund if unspent
Total	$2,405

- ☐ Verify Apr 17 paycheck reflects the raise
- ☐ Set up $1,550 auto-transfer to Checking each payday for rent funding
- ☐ Set up automatic $269/paycheck to Roth IRA
- ☐ Pull March pay stubs — identify what caused $1,329/$1,346 amounts

> No extra car payments this plan. At 5.94%, the car loan is low enough priority that — given the tighter budget from $3,100 rent — every discretionary dollar does more in the emergency fund or Roth IRA. Pay the scheduled $260/month only.

May — $9,090 net ⭐ Bonus Month → $5,520 available

BUCKET	AMOUNT	NOTES
Spending (3 × $400)	$1,200
Emergency fund	$1,526	$475 + $475 + $576 (bonus paycheck buffer redirect)
Roth IRA (3 × $269)	$807
Rent pre-fund (→ Checking)	$1,550	3rd paycheck pre-funds July rent
Buffer	$437	Sweep to E-Fund
Total	$5,520

- ☐ Pay every CC statement in full — no exceptions, ever
- ☐ Confirm W-4 withholding is accurate on new salary
- ☐ Weekly 10-min Sunday spending check — scan transactions
- ☐ May 29 is the bonus paycheck — full $101 buffer redirected to E-Fund

June — $6,060 net → $2,490 available

BUCKET	AMOUNT	NOTES

Spending (2 × $400)	$800
Emergency fund	$950
Roth IRA (2 × $269)	$538
Buffer	$202	Sweep to E-Fund if unspent
Total	$2,490

- ☐ Evaluate increasing Roth 401K from 4% → 6% (costs ~$92/month, adds $2,400/year to retirement)
- ☐ Hard cap on gambling: $50/month or $0

PART 5 — BIWEEKLY PAYCHECK BREAKDOWN

#	DATE	NET PAY	RENT→CHK	BILLS	SPEND	E-FUND	ROTH IRA	BUFFER
1	Apr 3	$2,945	$1,550	$235	$400	$400	$269	$91
2	Apr 17	$3,030	$1,550	$235	$400	$475	$269	$101
3	May 1	$3,030	$1,550	$235	$400	$475	$269	$101
4	May 15	$3,030	$1,550	$235	$400	$475	$269	$101
5	May 29 ⭐	$3,030	$1,550	$235	$400	$576	$269	$0
6	Jun 12	$3,030	$1,550	$235	$400	$475	$269	$101
7	Jun 26	$3,030	$1,550	$235	$400	$475	$269	$101
90-Day Total		$21,125	$10,850	$1,645	$2,800	$3,351	$1,883	$596

⭐ May 29 bonus paycheck: Buffer fully redirected to emergency fund. E-Fund gets $576 instead of $475.

Buffer rule: The $91–$101 per paycheck is your only cushion for unexpected costs. If unspent, sweep to E-Fund each Sunday. Over 90 days this adds up to $596 extra toward the emergency fund target.

Spending reality check: $400/paycheck = ~$800/month for groceries, dining, transport, entertainment, shopping, and personal care in NYC. This is tight. It requires deliberate choices — cook more, fewer group dinners, subway over Lyft, limit delivery orders. The Jan–Feb dining spend alone was $700–1,000/month — that entire category now needs to live inside $800/month alongside everything else.

PART 6 — RUNNING TOTALS

#	DATE	E-FUND ADDED	E-FUND BALANCE	ROTH IRA YTD
—	Apr 1 (start)	—	$6,595	$0
1	Apr 3	+$400	$6,995	$269
2	Apr 17	+$475	$7,470	$538
3	May 1	+$475	$7,945	$807
4	May 15	+$475	$8,420	$1,076
5	May 29 ⭐	+$576	$8,996	$1,345
6	Jun 12	+$475	$9,471	$1,614
7	Jun 26	+$475	$9,946	$1,883

If all buffers ($596 total) are also swept to E-Fund: end-of-June balance reaches ~$10,542. Emergency fund target of $15,000 (roughly 4 months of fixed costs) is reachable by ~December 2026 at this rate.

PART 7 — 90-DAY SCORECARD

METRIC	APRIL 1	JUNE 30 TARGET
CC debt	$12,426	$0
Monthly interest paid	~$200–300	$0
Student loan payments	$476/mo	$0
Car loan balance	$13,063	~$12,475
Liquid emergency fund	$6,595	$9,946
Roth IRA contributed (90 days)	$0	$1,883
Roth 401K (via payroll, ongoing)	$184.62/check	$184.62/check
Monthly net take-home (standard)	$5,975	$6,060
Monthly fixed costs	$3,570	$3,570
Monthly available after fixed (standard)	unpredictable	$2,490

> What changed from $1,550 to $3,100 rent: Monthly available surplus dropped from $4,040 to $2,490 — a $1,550/month reduction. Extra car payments were removed to preserve emergency fund and Roth IRA contributions. The spending budget dropped from $500 to $400/paycheck. The plan still works, but the margin for error is thinner. Every dollar of unnecessary spending now directly competes with building financial security.

> The single most important rule: $400/paycheck is the spending ceiling. If you hold it, you build $3,351 in emergency savings and $1,883 in Roth IRA contributions over 90 days — while paying zero interest on consumer debt for the first time. If you don't hold it, the math breaks immediately at these margins.
